

VOICE OF LOVE

La Voli® Musical Lollipop

Lavoli Musical Lollipop takes candy as a carrier and combines bone conduction technology to skillfully integrate the senses of taste and hearing, empowering the music with flavor and the taste with melody.

It is designed to provide people with a medium to express, share and commemorate happiness and emotions, which perfectly embodies the brand's slogan: Voice of Love.

This product features clearly-defined functional zones and unified use habits with commonly used devices, free of learning costs and disabilities, making it easy to operate for both children and the elderly.

More importantly, this product is user-friendly to those suffering from Conductive Hearing Loss, allowing them to use it as ordinary people.

Besides being used as holiday gifts, Valentine's Day present, birthday gift, anniversary gift, Mother's Day gift...

This product, given its ever-changing content, it can be anything for anyone.

Considering the required carriers and ties for connection and emotional communication among people and the need to commemorate and share important moments of life, Lavoli is therefore created.

Candy can bring sweetness, pleasure and happiness, making it a favorite food for all mankind.

Lavoli is integrated with children's education and toy industry to satisfy children's taste enjoyment and curiosity, while mobilizing multiple senses to raise the enjoyment of learning and entertainment.

In addition to playing audio content present in the product, it also allows users to record personalized voice for customization, and upload, download, edit and play various types of audio via Bluetooth, mobile phone App, or PC software, which greatly expands the application scenarios.
